

This is the view from the street towards the side of the house where the window will go

This is the view from the back of the house, showing the side where the window will go

This is the view from the street from the other side of the house, no changes here:

This is that same side of the house from the drive way, no changes on this side

This is the back of the house

This is another view of the back of the house from the driveway side

